Dear career choices reader,

It is that time of the year when you think about what to do next! It is the time when you purchase new pens, paper, folders, a school calendar and clean out your drawers. Yes, school has started and we still carry that tradition with us from childhood: throw old things out and start anew.

In today's job market you need to take these same steps for your professional development. Take a fresh look at your skills, determine your many talents, examine your personal values, polish your skills. Try to see where you need to make improvements and develop a PAR (Plan to take Action and get Results).

Here are some tips for you.

a) Learn more through studying. College, university, continuing education course, on-line course — this will help you add to your skill set and illustrate that you are a life-long learner.

b) Help others and help yourself. Offer to help out: social action committee, hospital, social service organization, school, work with children, museums. This will help you develop a broader network of friends and acquaintances and an opportunity to give back to community

c) Feel energized! Walk, run, play tennis, bike, hike, swim, yoga — get healthy! Also eat all food groups in moderation. Eating right gives you the energy to move forward.

d) Read and learn. Visit the library, look on-line, study a subject and research an area to improve your knowledge of a subject. Read journals, books, poetry, magazines, newspapers. By reading those specific articles you become better informed.

e) Friends are special, keep them and make new ones. Friends help in so many ways! They support you, laugh with you, cry with you and listen to you. We all benefit from having a friend.

f) Experiment! It is fun to try something different that you haven't ever done before. It opens your mind and gives you a chance to learn and laugh. Remember how it was for the first time you mastered riding a bike.

g) It is always useful to have a check up with your career counsellor. Perhaps a review of personality type will help.

Good luck to you,
your unknown friend.
